PELHAM BAY PARK'S ADVANTAGES.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE AN EXHIBIT OF THE BOOK OUTPUT OF THE COUNTRY. The World's Fair preparations and matters relating thereto continue to monopolize much of Mayor Grant's time as well as his mail. Yesterday Henry Ballantine, of Bombay, India, was introduced to the Mayor by William E. Dodge. Mr. Ballantine said that he was engaged in furthering commercial interests between the United States and India. There are many lines of merchandise, he said, not manufactured in this atry, which Indian merchants would be giad to Walter S. Church writes to say: "Wherever the World's Fair may be held, public attention is hereby called to the magnificent display that might be made at it of the book output of the United States, more especially of its industrial literature. Nothing of the kind (worth mentioning) has ever been attempted in the Expositions of this or any other country, nor does there exist anywhere in the United States anything approaching a creditable collection of this sort. Including, as it should, the general and State and canals, river and harbor improvements, waterworks, reports of army and navy, reports of Government, State and city engineers, boards of trade, produce exchanges, manufactures, geological and trigonome-trical surveys, professional and technical journals, tvaluable trade circulars, statistics of all sorts,

N. B.," wrote to The Tribune yesterday on the

mbject as follows:

I cannot pass unnoticed the article you published this morning under the caption "To View Various Sites," referring to the site of the Fair and Exposition of 1892, and particularly to that portion of it which refers to and quotes the paper of J. D. Crimmins, of the Committee on Sites, etc. The site which Mr. Crimmins advocates lies above the Hariem River upon private property, and what is known as Cedar Park. It is a place without water facilities and only traversed by one railway, and is not possessed of any natural or artificial features which should recommend it to the thoughtful citizen.

The great tendency of our people is to make speculative everything of a public character, so far as it can be done without detracting from the general object desired to be attained. In the great countries of Europe where kindred expositions have been held, the sites selected have been those usually dedicated in a measure to public use; such places as, in serving the end desired, could be beautified, and so permanently remain.

But now, by the aid of God, we are determined to put the same into practical God, we are determined to put the same into practical shape by prayerfully exerting our best efforts to that and by earnestly and ass duously laboring for something which will meet this important case. We propose, by the assistance of Almighty God, to found an institution which will meet the present and most pressing demand, if not throughout the Republic, at least in part of it. The facilities for higher education of women have never yet been offered in our Republic, either by State or Church; hence, however highly educated the male portion might be, the female highly educated the male portion might be, the female is not, unless from a foreign source. Department, speaking of the case of John S. Bacon, the suspended superintendent of the department's had obtained so much notoriety, he (Colonel Rogers) had decided to make no decision at present as to re-moval, but would permit Mr. Bacon to remain under suspension. It is the general belief that Colonel Rogers will do nothing regarding Mr. Bacon's case himself, but will refer it to Commissioner Coleman on his return from Europe and earnestly urge the Commissioner to take the action which the Acting conclusion may be found in some recent correspon

Colonel Rogers has been having with Corporation Counsel Clark. On August 22, the Colonel wrote Mr. Clark saying that he would "find enclosed" the stenographer's minutes taken at the hearing of the Bacon case and respectfully requesting "advisement as to whether it is necessary for the interest of this (the Street Cleaning) department that I (Acting Commis-

Mr. Clark adds:

"You saw fit to disregard my advice and to cite Bacon to appear before you, and at your request I assigned Mr. Olendorf to assist you when Bacon appeared before you to make an explanation of the charges which you had preferred against him. Mr. Olendorf did assist you, and at the termination of that proceeding my official connection with the matter your department to advise you whether it is necessary for the interests of your department that you should discharge Bacon from further service therein. duties which devolve upon the head or acting head of your department. The responsibilities which are entailed upon me by law are, I assure you, ample, and I have no desire or inclination to assume responsiother departments. For this reason I decline to give you the advice which you ask for."

Colonel Rogers's efforts to shake himself loose from the County Democracy and to put himself in touch with the Tammany chiefs seem to be bearing little fruit. It was currently reported a day or two ago that he had been telling politicians and others that that he had been teiling politicians and others that his purpose in getting rid of Bacon was to make a place for a friend of Commissioner Gilroy. The story soon reached the ears of the Commissioner of the Department of Public Works. Meeting Colonel Rogers in the Mayor's office on Monday he said:

"Colonel, if you have the name of any friend of mine on your list for appointment in your department please strike it off. No friend of mine wants a place in your department, and if you should appoint one I should advise him not to accept."

A somewhat similar instance was revealed yesterday. Corporation Counsel Clark received a letter from Colonel Rogers on Saturday marked "semi-official and confidential," in which the writee asked Mr. Clark to designate a time when they could have a quiet hitte conference with a view to arranging matters political

Among the persons that he swindled is the manager of the Hoffman Cafe, where he got a He ran up a board bill amounting to $75 at the Hotel Royal, and other bills at the Prescott House and the published at No. 57 Broadway, as a percentage on th published at No. 5: Broadway, as a period and advertisement. This is not the first time that he has been before the public. Five years ago he ran away from his wife, a highly estimable woman, and his three children, with the daughter of a prominent Brooklyn citizen. The woman with whom he cloped had five children. She has since died.

German, about twenty-eight years old, met a young woman in Carlsruhe, Germany, whose name is Lena Lamprey. Lena had been in this country for five years and was about to return. Richtman told her that he had a brother in Boston in the employ of John Lieban, of Nes. 17 and 19 Pension-st., and that Mr. Lieban had been in Germany and offered him, Emil. $20 a week to be his bookkeeper in Boston. Lena lent him 230 marks, taking the checks for his baggage as security. They came here on the same steamer. Lenn gave Clerk Van Duzen, at Castle Garden, the checks gave clerk Van Duzen, at Cashie Garden, the checks and fold him not to deliver up the trunks until he rereceived 230 marks from Emil. She then took the train for Chicago. Yesterday Richtmann appeared at the Garden with a German lawyer and demanded his trunks. He did not get them. Commissioner stephenson questioned Richtmann as to his object in coming here and learned of Mr. Lieban's offer. Emil will probably be sent back to Germany, and Lena will leas her 250 marks.

THE COLLECTOR MAKES APPOINTMENTS. Collector Erhardt yesterday appointed Adolf Nelson, formerly a clerk at a salary of $2,000 a year in the Liquidating Division, to be confidential clerk and acting deputy collector in place of William H. Larner. Albert G. C. Saxton was reinstated as clerk in class 4, at a salary of $2,000 a year. He takes Mr. Nelson's place. Mr. Saxton was in the service for years before the days of Collector Magone, and he was considered an expertitudidator. He is a Republican, and Mr. Magone removed time on account of his politics. Theedore Cochen was him on account of his politics. Theodore Cocheu was also reinstated as inspector with pay of $4 a day. He was removed under Magone's administration on a trivial charge which was without basis. Orin Holden was appointed messenger at a salary of $840 a year, and Will

Nichol-on's Liquid Bread is a luxury within the

These coolish days make a man feel scrumptions. The easy careless garb of Summer grows tiresome; it lost its freshness weeks ago; now for something more dressy.

From our point of observation, one of the first indications of approaching Autumn is the call for plain black goods; "Prince Albert" and cutaway coats and waistcoats, with trousers of lighter colors. Always useful, they fit in nicely just here, when a heavier Fall suit would be burdensome. Our stock of these staple goods is at its best, and the garments are intended to be acceptable to the most particular people. Expect to pay us a third less than custom prices for same quality.

None too early to buy a Fall Overcoat. Ours are ready; $10 to $35. Fresh Neckwear also, and we are selling scarfs at 25 cents each to close the Summer stock.
